Our vision

The City of London Corporation is the governing body of the Square Mile dedicated to a vibrant and thriving City, supporting a diverse and sustainable London within a globally-successful UK.

Who we are

The Square Mile is the historic centre of London and is home to the ‘City’ – the financial and commercial heart of the UK. Our reach extends far beyond the Square Mile’s boundaries and across private, public and charitable and community sector responsibilities. This, along with our independent and non-party political voice and convening power, enables us to promote the interests of people and organisations across London and the UK and play a valued role on the world-stage.

There are 513,000 workers in the City of London, or 10% of London’s total workforce. 1 in 58 UK workers are employed in the City.

We look after over 11,000 acres of green spaces. That’s approximately the same size as 20 Hyde Parks.

Our spaces have over 23 million visits each year.

The City Corporation’s charity-funder, City Bridge Trust, is London’s largest independent charitable funder, distributing around £20 million a year.
The UK financial services industry contributed £75bn in tax revenue in 2018. 11% of the total tax contribution to the UK is generated from financial services.

The City Corporation is ranked as the TOP academy sponsor in the country for pupil progress by the Sutton Education Trust.

In 2017, 18.4m people visited the Square Mile, spending over £1.7bn.

The City is home to 23,580 businesses, with nearly 99% of these being SMEs but the large firms (1%) provide over 50% of the City’s jobs.

There are approximately 7,500 residents living in the City of London.

We are the country’s fourth biggest funder of culture, investing £110m every year in heritage and cultural activities of all kinds.

The coming five years

2018-23 is likely to be another period of significant change on a global, national and regional level, bringing with it significant threats as well as opportunities. Preventing climate change, terrorism and cyber-crime, and countering their effects, will remain high priorities. So too will retaining the UK’s competitiveness, in the context of Brexit, increases in the cost of living and reductions in public sector spending.

Disruptive changes, such as the digitisation of our work and personal lives, are likely to bring both threats and opportunities to our residents, workers, visitors, partners and our own organisation.

And, of course, things will happen that we’re not expecting but that we will want to respond to positively and constructively.

Our commitments

To do so, we will need to be relevant, responsible, reliable and radical as an organisation. We will need to think and act strategically and at pace. And we will need to ensure that everyone can share in the benefits we aim to create.

This means as individuals we must be open: to unlocking the full potential of our many assets – our people, heritage, green and urban spaces, funds, data and technology; to trying new things and learning as we go; and to working with our stakeholders and partners who share our aims.

How we’ll use this plan

This plan is designed to be used as a strategic framework to guide our thinking and decision-making and help ensure that everything we do takes us closer to achieving our vision.

It sets out our vision, the aims and outcomes that drive us, our responsibilities, challenges and commitments and the high-level actions we’ll take to help our elected Members and staff see where to focus their efforts to achieve sustainable systemic change.

In year one we will use it to develop our strategic priorities, to decide how best to go about delivering them, to allocate resources towards pursuing them and to find out what effect we are having as a result.

Over the five-year term of the plan we will use it to identify where we need to innovate, with whom we can collaborate and how we can align and drive all our activities to achieve the greatest possible impact on the things we feel are important.
