

Emergency Services Points and Procedures – 2019

We have been working with the Emergency Services to discuss the best locations for them to use when dealing with an incident on the Barbican Estate. All aspects of the Estate were taken into consideration and the main decision of 'where is best' was ultimately the decision of the Emergency Services.

The best way forward has been agreed as follows:

A (999) call will be placed to the Control Centre

The address given by the caller will be sent through directly to the allocated Crew/Unit from the Emergency Services, along with the relevant Emergency Service Point (as below)

Also attached to this message are further directions on how exactly to find this location (ramp/forecourt etc), with the contact number to the relevant Concierge who will provide assistance

(Please note the Mews blocks that are not included in the above table have direct street access).

You can also give the Control Centre the Emergency Services Point number, however it isn't vitally important as this will come up automatically due to it being already linked to the blocks. The advice to you from us is (if possible) to also contact your Concierge and notify them that the Emergency Services have been contacted, including the reason for the call.
