

TEST OF RELEVANCE: EQUALITY ANALYSIS (EA)

The screening process of using the Test of Relevance template aims to assist in determining whether a full Equality Analysis (EA) is required. More information can be found on the Equality and Inclusion Strategy Website.

Introduction

The Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) is set out in the Equality Act 2010 (s.149). This requires public authorities, in the exercise of their functions, to have 'due regard' to the need to:

- Eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not, and
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not

The characteristics protected by the Equality Act 2010 are:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Marriage and civil partnership.
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex (gender)
- Sexual orientation

What is due regard?	How to demonstrate compliance
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It involves considering the aims of the duty in a way that is proportionate to the issue at hand • Ensuring that real consideration is given to the aims and the impact of policies with rigour and with an open mind in such a way that it influences the final decision • Due regard should be given before and during policy formation and when a decision is taken including cross cutting ones as the impact can be cumulative. The general equality duty does not specify how public authorities should analyse the effect of their business activities on different groups of people. However, case law has established that equality analysis is an important way public authorities can demonstrate that they are meeting the requirements. Even in cases where it is considered that there are no implications of proposed policy and decision making on the PSED it is good practice to record the reasons why and to include these in reports to committees where decisions are being taken. It is also good practice to consider the duty in relation to current policies, services and procedures, even if there is no plan to change them.	Case law has established the following principles apply to the PSED: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Knowledge – the need to be aware of the requirements of the Equality Duty with a conscious approach and state of mind. • Sufficient Information – must be made available to the decision maker • Timeliness – the Duty must be complied with before and at the time that a particular policy is under consideration or decision is taken not after it has been taken. • Real consideration – consideration must form an integral part of the decision-making process. It is not a matter of box-ticking; it must be exercised in substance, with rigour and with an open mind in such a way that it influences the final decision. • Sufficient information – the decision maker must consider what information he or she has and what further information may be needed in order to give proper consideration to the Equality Duty • No delegation - public bodies are responsible for ensuring that any third parties which exercise functions on their behalf are capable of complying with the Equality Duty, are required to comply with it, and that they do so in practice. It is a duty that cannot be delegated. • Review – the duty is continuing applying when a policy is developed and decided upon, but also when it is implemented and reviewed.

Rather, it requires public bodies to think about people's different needs and how these can be met • Make services homogeneous or to try to remove or ignore differences between people. The key points about demonstrating compliance with the duty are to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Collate sufficient evidence to determine whether changes being considered will have a potential impact on different groups • Ensure decision makers are aware of the analysis that has been undertaken and what conclusions have been reached on the possible implications • Keep adequate records of the full decision making process

Test of Relevance screening

The Test of Relevance screening is a short exercise that involves looking at the overall proposal and deciding if it is relevant to the PSED.

Note: If the proposal is of a significant nature and it is apparent from the outset that a full equality analysis will be required, then it is not necessary to complete the Test of Relevance screening template and the full equality analysis and be completed.

The questions in the Test of Relevance Screening Template to help decide if the proposal is equality relevant and whether a detailed equality analysis is required. The key question is whether the proposal is likely to be relevant to any of the protected characteristics.

Quite often, the answer may not be so obvious and service-user or provider information will need to be considered to make a preliminary judgment. For example, in considering licensing arrangements, the location of the premises in question and the demographics of the area could affect whether section 149 considerations come into play.

There is no one size fits all approach but the screening process is designed to help fully consider the circumstances.

What to do

In general, the following questions all feed into whether an equality analysis is required:

- How many people is the proposal likely to affect?
- How significant is its impact?
- Does it relate to an area where there are known inequalities?

At this initial screening stage, the point is to try to assess obvious negative or positive impact.

If a negative/adverse impact has been identified (actual or potential) during completion of the screening tool, a full equality analysis must be undertaken.

On completion of the Test of Relevance screening, officers should:

- Ensure they have fully completed and the Director has signed off the Test of Relevance Screening Template.
- Store the screening template safely so that it can be retrieved if for example, Members request to see it, or there is a freedom of information request or there is a legal challenge.
- If the outcome of the Test of Relevance Screening identifies no or minimal impact refer to it in the Implications section of the report and include reference to it in

If no negative / adverse impacts arising from the proposal it is not necessary to undertake a full equality analysis.

Background Papers when reporting to Committee or other decision making process.

1. Proposal / Project Title: City of London Air Quality Supplementary Planning Document.

The Air Quality Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) sets out the City Corporation’s requirements for reducing air pollution from new and refurbished developments within the Square Mile. Together with other City Corporation SPD’s, it provides detailed guidance on policies within the City Corporation’s Local Plan and the Mayor of London’s London Plan.

2. Brief summary (include main aims, proposed outcomes, recommendations / decisions sought):

The City of London Corporation’s Air Quality Supplementary Planning document is the City Corporation’s first Supplementary Planning Document for air quality. It has been written with reference to GLA guidance and supports actions in the City of London’s Air Quality Strategy.

The overall aim of the document is to provide further guidance on the City Corporation’s Local Plan in the relation to minimising the impact of developments on air quality in the square mile.

3. Considering the equality aims (eliminate unlawful discrimination; advance equality of opportunity; foster good relations), indicate for each protected group whether there may be a positive impact, negative (adverse) impact or no impact arising from the proposal:

Protected Characteristic (Equality Group) <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Positive Impact	Negative Impact	No Impact	Briefly explain your answer. Consider evidence, data and any consultation.
Age	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Children are at greater risk from the effects of pollution because their lungs are still developing and the elderly/ vulnerable, especially those with other underlining health problems are at risk too. Working towards making City air healthier to breather will have a positive impact on these two groups.
Disability	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	For individuals whose lives are affected by asthma, or other respiratory conditions, the supplementary planning document is a positive step.
Gender Reassignment	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Marriage and Civil Partnership	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Pregnancy and Maternity	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Working towards making City air healthier to breathe will have a positive impact on pregnant women as breathing polluted air can be harmful to unborn babies.
Race	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

Religion or Belief	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Sex (i.e gender)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Sexual Orientation	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
4. There are no negative/adverse impact(s) Please briefly explain and provide evidence to support this decision:	There are no negative / adverse impact on any protective characteristic as the aim of the document is to implement policies to improve local air quality, which will be a benefit for all living and working in the square mile.
5. Are there positive impacts of the proposal on any equality groups?	The positive impacts will be felt greater for those living with asthma or other respiratory conditions, pregnant women, the young and the old/ vulnerable.
6. As a result of this screening, is a full EA necessary? (Please check appropriate box using <input type="checkbox"/>)	Yes	No	Briefly explain your answer: It has been concluded that no protective characteristic will be negatively impacted by the City of London Air Quality Supplementary Planning Document
